

SPONSOR AND HONORARY LIFE MEMBERS OF LEPSOC

The members in the left-hand column below, apart from their significant contributions to the Society as individuals, have chosen to be sponsor members for 2015 and have through their generosity provided significant financial support, which is much appreciated by the Society. In the right-hand column we list our honorary life members, who have been honoured by the Society for their outstanding contributions to the study and conservation of Lepidoptera.

Any member of the Society can volunteer to become a sponsor member on an annual basis by making a contribution of R800 (RSA) or $80 (overseas). As the Society does need all the financial support it can get it is hoped that more members will select to become sponsor members in the future.

DONATIONS TO THE SOCIETY WILL ASSIST BUTTERFLY CONSERVATION

Donations to LepSoc are needed more than ever, since we have now committed ourselves to a conservation programme known as COREL (Custodians of Rare and Endangered Lepidoptera). This programme is being funded through the Brenton Blue Trust (BBT), of which LepSoc was a founder member. Since the BBT is a registered Public Benefit Organisation, this means that any donations made through the BBT for butterfly conservation are tax deductible for the donor, and the BBT issues section 18A tax certificates. Details can be found on the Brenton Blue Trust website www.brentonbluetrust.co.za.

Donors are therefore encouraged to make their donations by accessing our website page www.lepsoc.org.za and clicking on the "donate" button, or by making an electronic funds transfer to LepSoc's or the BBT's bank account, which are given below:
